

OFFICE OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

Whether you are interested in doing research at UNC Charlotte or seeking research-related support, the Office of Undergraduate Research is here to guide you!

01

Prepare

Search faculty and other researchers that might have similar interests.

- Academic departments, faculty websites, or research centers on campus are a great start
- Let your friends and classmates know about your interests
- Chat with your professors, advisors, and even Charlotte's librarians!

02

Paid Research

The Office of Undergraduate Research funds multiple PAID research positions for undergraduate students. During the academic year, full-time Scholars can earn up to $2000 per semester and part-time Scholars can earn up to $1000 per semester.

03

Conferences

The Charlotte Undergraduate Research Conference (URC) is a university-wide showcase of research projects completed by undergraduate students of all levels from all colleges and departments in the university.

04

Myths about undergraduate Research

- Research is only for the sciences/labs: No Way!
 - Research is how we create new knowledge within all disciplines including the humanities, and social sciences, as well as in the visual and performing arts!
- Research is only for the "best" students with the highest GPAs: Not True!
 - Doing research is a valuable way to learn. Research doesn't always require the same skills or strengths since research is about exploring and finding new solutions.
